About

I'm Jerome.

I've travelled widely and learnt that a trip that looks perfect on paper often falls apart in practice, especially when you're travelling with other people.

My role is to spot the details early, ask the right questions, and help you choose between the options that actually make sense.

Who We're Best For

This works best if you:

- Want clear recommendations over endless choice
- Care about where you stay, not just where you go
- Prefer a well-judged plan over last-minute improvisation
